Washington, February 3, 1870.

The Republican leaders are looking upon them for a new world to conquer. They have been to the end of their tether, and the turn in the long lane is plainly visible. There is no help for the proscriptionists, and the sensible men of the party have decided against continuing their fortunes with those who refuse to accept the political situation as tempered by the healings of time. There are some who would go further in the way of humiliating and proscribing their fellow-countrymen, but the party is not so foolish as to follow the lead of the extreme. The election of the present session it will be a leading issue of the coming fall campaign. The political war in the North and West will be waged partly on this issue if the question is not settled before then.

The electro-heating experiments yesterday of your townsman Dr. Burton, at the Windsor building, were entirely successful, and clearly demonstrated the fact that electricity can be made available as a heating agent. The electrical current was generated by what is known as the Wythe electro-motor machine, which was driven by a steam-engine in the basement of the building. The officials of the War and Navy Departments having afforded the inventor every facility for a thorough test of the invention, much interest was manifested to know the results of the tests, and several gentlemen of prominence were present to witness the experiments. The apparatus, which was the invention for warming railroad cars by means of heated metallic plates, is intended to be placed under the feet of the passenger. The inventor explained thoroughly the practical designs of the invention, which were the subject of much attention by his scientific visitors. Dr. Burton is supported in his views by the practical railroad men and by the best scientific opinion in the country.

A COLORED MINISTER.—Washington, March 4.—James W. Mason, who was nominated Friday as Minister Resident and Consul-General at Liberia, is a native of this country, and is now largely engaged in planting. Enlisting in the French army, he served throughout the Crimean war, and was breveted lieutenant-colonel for distinguished services. About a year ago he was nominated as judge of the Virginia Circuit Court for the district of Liberia, where he is now largely engaged in planting. Letter from Naamond.

Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.

Surgeon, Va., March 4, 1870.

Quite a brilliant matrimonial fair took place last night (Thursday) at the Methodist church in this place. Dr. William Murray, formerly of Suffolk, but more recently from Ireland, was united in marriage to Miss Sue Kilby, daughter of our esteemed townsman Hon. John R. Kilby—Rev. James Murray, brother to the groom, assisted by the Rev. W. G. Starr, officiating. Dr. Murray will reside in Norfolk.

While the upper counties are sending negroes South by thousands, not one can be induced to leave this vicinity. They prefer making a precarious living by fishing, oystering, and selling crabs—besides, they can always get work in the lumber-yards of the Daniel Swamp.

Our farmers are somewhat at a loss to know what to plant next year they were somewhat at a "loss" after selling the crops. Potatoes were not worth the cost of transportation to market, and it does not pay to raise corn for sale. Peanuts are very "pop" everywhere, and will take a prominent place on almost every farm. This is by far the most profitable crop of this section.

The peach trees were badly taken by the treacherous weather in January which wooed the little blossoms from their winter beds, and then left them out in the cold. However, if no further damage is done, we expect milk and peaches in season.

Politics at a low ebb. No candidates announced as yet, though many can tell you exactly what kind of a man is needed.

LYNCHING IN BRUSSARD.—A party of persons unknown to the community entered on Saturday night the residence of Monday night the 25th ultimo and shot Wythe Bromberg, the colored man who assassinated Mrs. Lilly Rawlings, the wife of Bascomb Rawlings, on the night of the 24th of January, while nursing her infant child. The culprit was mortally wounded, and is probably already dead.

GOOD! BUT IT MIGHT BE BETTER.—The stewards of the Methodist Episcopal church at this place a few days since purchased the lot and lot near the church, owned by James J. Ney's estate, for a parsonage. This is certainly a good situation for a parsonage, and if the preacher in charge can do about a house they have made a wise selection, as it only cost $275.—Pearisburg Gazette.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE.—We learn that Mr. Henry Johnston, living near Staffordville, in this county, had his dwelling house entirely consumed by fire on last Saturday night week. He succeeded in saving all of his furniture. The fire was accidental.—Pearisburg Gazette.

The literary societies of Washington College have secured Bishop E. M. Marvin, of Missouri, to address them at their next convocation. He is said to be one of the finest orators in the country.
